Col. Tribble Withdraws.

Local News.

Cel. M. P. Tribble, who had filed his pledge as a candidate for the office of Secretary of State, has since with-drawn, and the field is now clear for the re-election of Jesse T. Gantt. Eol. Tribble gives reasons for his action in the following paper:

"Lout 30 days ago 1 finally decided to be a candidate for this office. This decision was reached without consultation with any one, nor did I mention the matter until after I had filed my pledge with Chairman Jones. Since aling my pledge I have learned that Mr. Gaptt has not been well for some time, and that his physical condition almost precludes the possibility of his making a campaign.

"While I know that I have a full right to make a campaign, I have now mo desire to do so under the circum-stances. Should I ever ask for office from my fellow citizens, I could only appreciate the honor their consideration might bestow by feeling that, without taking advantage of any one, I had won a race concerning which a man might feel proud.

"Developments which have been known to me only since the public anmouncement of my candidacy, make me feel that it would be unjust and unfair, shoth to Mr. Gantt and myself, for me ta make the race, and for these good reasons I have withdrawn in favor of Mr. Gantt, the present incumbent. Immediately upon arriving at this con-Immediately upon arriving at this con Roment, to write Mr. Gantt of my withdrawal, before mentioning the matter to any one else."

Mr. Smith brought down several hundred visitors, all of whom had a awagger time of it and were regretful to leave. The attractions at the seachors resort were heartily enjoyed, especially the novelty of the automobile ride on the beach and the farce comedy in the Casino. All the points of interest around the city were viewed. Wany pleasant incidents are being recited by the strangers to one another. Some funny scenes were also enacted as some of the visitors were from the rural districts, and numerous city nights were too much for them. The Marriage of a Tormer Lady of this County has many relatives and friends here:

The following marriage notice, from a recent issue of a McRae (Ga.) paper, will be of interest to some of our readers, as the bride's parents moved from this county several years ago, and she has many relatives and friends here:

"A charming home wedding, simple and most attractive in all its arrangement, was that of Miss Ada Pruitt, of Welcome, to Mr. E. W. Carter, of Ft. Landerdale, Fla. The wedding occurred Sunday morning, June 12th, at half past nine o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pruitt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Brewton in a very impressive manner and the wedding march was played by Mr. Walter Smith as the bridal party entered the parlor, which was beautifully decorated with magnolia and green foliage. The attendants were Mr. Boyce Nelson and Miss Geneva Stone, Mr. Harry Pellicer, of Hastings, Fla., and Miss Gertrude Pruitt. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations were extended, they with a number of relatives and friends extended, they with a number of relatives and friends attended church at McRae. All were invited back to Mrs. Pruitt's to a bountiful dinner and refreshments which were heartily enjoyed by all. The bride was one of Welcome's most attractive young ladies, with a sweet disposition and a true Christian character. She will be great Christian character. She will be greatly missed in our Sunday School and neighborhood, but think our loss will be Mr. Carter's gain as a helpmeet in life. Mr. Carter's gain as a helpmeet in life. #### A Trip to Charleston.

Mr. Editor: The Smith excursion last week to Charleston was very well pat-ronized by our people, notwithstanding it was a busy time with farmers. Those who went all express themselves as-having a most pleasant time. Some of us had never visited Charleston before and saw much that was of interest.
One noticeable feature was the fine crops all along the railway as we jour-neyed from the mountains to the sea coast, except in one place of a few miles above Columbia, where they seemed to have suffered from a lack of

Then to the wharf with its bustle of steamers and boats loading and unloading and crowds going to and fro. There we caught our first view of the bay as it lay glimmering in the sun and dotted with little sail boats that skimmed the water like immense birds. On board the steamboat was a merry crowd bound for Mount Pleasant, Sullivan's Island and the Isle of Halms. Sullivan's Island, oh, what sad, sweet memories it recalled of the sixties, when Orr's Regiment was encamped there. That brave and gallant band, young and gay and debonair then—where are they now? #### Honor for Bishop Capers.

Bishop Capers has been elected Chancellor of the University of the South at Sewanes. The selection is a South at Sewanee. The selection is a very great honor, and one that is very highly prized by the friends of the good bishop in this part of the world. He succeeds the late Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky. It is especially gratifying because the bishop can accept the trust and still be bishop of the South Carolina diocese. The executive work of this great university is done by the Vice Chancellor, who is to it what the president is to colleges generally. The bishop will be the church head of the institution, and will deliver the diplomas and honorary degrees, and such mas and honorary degrees, and such

These are now reduced to the end of the season's prices, which means one half and more off of regular rates. The qualities and exclusive styles of these goods justify higher prices, but we mean to close them out while the demand is more active, and at lower prices than such Goods were ever marked before. Everything quoted here is of special value, and worth almost double the price asked.
